

POPE COUNTY

Pope County is in southern Illinois, with a population of 4,325. Pope County is home to people identifying themselves as non-Hispanic White (89.4%), Black (6.6%), or Hispanic/Latino (1.9%). According to the U.S. Census, 18.2% of residents live at or below the federal poverty level (FPL), compared with the state rate of 13%. The median household income is $39,243, compared with the state level of $59,196.

For this resource, IECAM used the U.S. Census Bureau's QuickFacts, which compiles demographic statistics based on various data programs (e.g., Population Estimates Program, American Community Survey 5-year estimates). The data presented above was retrieved in July 2018 from www.census.gov/quickfacts.

Children under age 5 are 2.5% of the population of Pope County. Early care and education in the county are provided by Head Start, Preschool for All (PFA), and child care settings (licensed child care centers, licensed family child care homes, and license-exempt child care centers or homes).

The Illinois Early Intervention Program (funded by IDHS) provides services in the home to children with disabilities, birth to age 3. Preschoolers with special needs (ages 3–5) may be served in PFA sites, Head Start programs, child care settings, early childhood special education classrooms, or the home.

Publicly Funded Preschool in Pope County

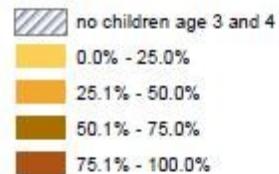

According to population estimates reported on IECAM (2015 census estimates), 60.0% of 3- and 4-year-old children in Pope County are living in families at or below 185% FPL (first PFA priority level).

The map (top left) shows the distribution of publicly funded preschool sites in Pope County (divided into townships). The color ramp (in the legend) indicates the percentage of 3- and 4-year-old children who live in households with an income at or below 185% FPL. Note that those townships in the darker shades of brown reveal a higher percentage of poverty. The map highlights the importance of locating PFA and Head Start sites in areas of highest need.

Child Care in Pope County

The map (top right) shows the distribution of child care settings superimposed on the county (divided into townships). Note that the green dots represent family child care homes. Although child care centers serve children who live above 185% FPL, many children from low-income families are cared for in family child care homes all over the county.
